IN the year 1857 the Directors made a consider able reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861. In that year, owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reductantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Uonl and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undernoted scale, which will take offeet from and after the 1st June next, viz:-

Shins of War. Admira Sir E. Belel or read a paper on "Improvements in the Sign stare of Slips of War He considered tant our ships of war needed a more protection than would keep their hulls safely finting, with such protection for those fighting the guns as might be deemed sufficient to keep of shells and musketry, heavy shot to pass freely through instead of causing spiral showers of splinters such as resulted from the destruction of the late targets at Shoeburyness. The present paper therefore, dealt with a mode of construction ad equate for contending with ordinary butteries, and also permitting external planking, and consequents by the old copper sheathing below water. It had been so generally assumed that no thickness of arm ner plate could be employed which would resist here directed to meet the difficulty halfway, by protecting themere vital shell of the lower hull, so s to dely the ordinary assault of any gunbearing vessel which should not by its accu nulated weight or mass of matter render defence impossible. It was important, that such a tonnage should be provided as should, as in the case of the Warrior class, he capable of floating the contemplated armnment independent of the forward and after compartments which might be assumed as mere assistant means of flotation, and to be so fitted with celiular divisions below the level of flutation as to render injury to those parts below the reach of shot of very triffing importance. In order to satisfy the mean of offence, our attention ought to be direted to the concentration of every gun embarked on objects either shead or asters, bearing in mind that, under feet by 10 feet. tl e threat that " no armour can withstand the contemplated guns, we must calculate on their em ployment as much as possible near the line of axis of the vessel. It was constantly use ried that the Warrior plates would stand no chance against the monster guns of which so much was predicted; but the question was whether some other mode to greater advantage, or assuming that it was pene- Apply by letter to H, care of the Office of this could we not avoid risk to the vitality of the ship by the injury to be inflicted ? He thought he saw his way to a remedy, which he would explain. Now, assuming that an iron spherical shot of 13 inches was the missile to be dreaded, the question to he considered was not exactly what flat ulate of iron was to resist it-for the authorities stated that no reasonable thickness, even up to 12 and H. Dunner & Co. inches could withstand the impact. Looking, however, only to the floating carcase of the ship, and disregarding the ports until we had an impreganable stage on Woich to place guns then we should ha at liberty to increase the thickness to any amount. His proposition was to construct the ship on the costomary plan of close iron ribs, but filling up the interstices between the iron with condensed tealt. Now, assuming that we constructed a vesset with 36 inches depth of rib at the vulnerable pertions which shot could reach, which would prohably involve 12 vertical feet of her side—say 8 below water and four above-we should then have a vessel of stronger framework than any now built building, or in contemplation. Then, assuming 4- GODOWNS at WANDHAL. His plans for the final construction and fortifications were not yet complete, but they would probably be laid before the Government in March next. On a previous occasion he had alluded to paper as an opposing medium. In 1816, at Algiers, a ream of foolscap, end on resisted a 681b, shot from a 27 feet gun, at 78 yards; and in 1854 he proposed to the Admiralty to constuct moveable battery rafts of brown paper, but the design was not carried out. Lately he learn from a newspaper that, tip years after his proposal it was found that paper of t-inch thickness was fixed at and not guite penetrated, while a similar shot went quite through 10 inches of good oak. In conclusion, he would observe that acondensed milihourd weighed less than onk or teak, and, interposed in the manner he had suggested, might form it target which would set even Big Will at difance.

Our New York advices are to the 8th, and via Canada to the 10th (per mail steamer Jura) .-The following is an extract of a private letter from Lientenant-General Grant, dated headquarters, City Point, Va., 16 :- "Latato to all citizens wno visit me htat all we want now to ensure an early restoration of the Union is a determined unity of sentiment North. The rebels have now in their ranks the last man. The little boys and old men are guarding prisoners and railroad bridges, and forming a good part of their garrison for en-Irenched positions. Any man lost by them cannot he replaced. They have roobed the cradle and the grave. Besides what they lose in frequent skirmishes, they are now live from deertions and other causes at least one regiment par day. With this draid upon them the end is not for distint if we will only be true to urselves. Their only hope now is in a divided North. This. neight give them reinforcements from Tennesses. Kentucky, and Missouri, while it would weaken us, With the draft quietly enforced the enemy would become despendent and apuld make but little resistance. I have no doubt but that the enemy are Outhouses. Garden, and enclosing Wall, Rent exceedingly anxious to hold out until after the 850 per month. presidential election, they have many hopes from its effect. They hope a counter-revolution; they hope the election of the peace candidate. In fact they hope like Machawber for something to tern up. Our peace friends, if they expect peace from separation, are much mistaken to have peace on l any terms. The South would demand restoration of their slaves freed, they would demand indem-nity for losses stained, they would pay for the restoration of every slave comping to the North."

Húman Longevity. We glean the following curious lacts from a work which has just appeared under the title:
"Ite la Longevite Humane," by Dr. Guyetant, who has himself reached the patriarchal age of 88. In 1777 average life in France did not exceed 23 years. In 1798, it had risen to 25 years and three months: in 1836 it was 33 years, and at pre- of Houses joining in corner of Hollywood eent it has reached the very high figure of 39, an & Road and Aberdeen Street, each has Sir cents per Sheet. increase of six years within a period of 28 years! This is evidently owing, first, to the great efforts made of late to remove insalubrious nuisances, to provide towns with a proper system of sewerage, drain marshes, etc., and then to the great progrees made in - medicine, and the abundance of wholesome food and every necessary comfort now at the command of all but the hapelessly indigent who are of themselves the object of much greater solicitude than formerly. There exists intimate connexion between the longevity of animals and the time of their gestation and subsequent growth. The gestation of the rubbit lasts 30 days; that of mon nine months, that of the elephant two years. The stag attains its full stature in the course of six years, and it lives about 40. In man, the bones increase in length until 20, and in thickness until 40; M. Flaurens fixes the natural term of man's ife at 100 years. Death in man appears to be neither more nor less than ossification arrived at its extreme limit; accordingly some years ago a chemist maintained that life might be prolonged. by taking lactic soid the chiefing redient of buttermilk, which tends to dissolve hone. Dr. Guyetant lays it down as a general rule that those live long who do not do more than their strength permits, but yet regularly employ all the strength they have. Besides a physical, there has been an intellectual, progress. During the ten years ending and deliquencies. Out of 62,425, persons condemned. Hamburg Family Pork.
